

The art of doing the right thing at the wrong time was carried just a trifle too far by that Jersey City saloonkeeper who kept warm beer and hot rooms in the summer time and cold beer and frigid rooms in the winter. His patrons stood it for fourteen years, and then con cluded that patience wasn't a virtue any longer. Now they are looking for accommodations in i place where the proprietor will give a onsideration to the eternal fitness of things.

There is joy among the silverites in Newark, for the word has been passed along that cash will be forthcoming from the men in the West who are interested in Bryan's election. Atop of that glorious news comes information that the Boy Orator of the Platte is going to talk in Newark soon. Why should he? Newark is the proud home of the Boy Orator of the Passaic, and his vocal machinery is capable of turning out as many sounds per minute as that of his Nebraska idol.

Kearny's Board of Health made a fuss about the meadow nuisances after the newspapers forced it to do something, but that body is apparentisowilling now to drop the whole subject until next summer comes around and protests again fill the foul air. Dr. Eaton reported to the Board that the nulsances had been "much | improved." They generally are after the hot weather ceases. But the nulsances are there just the same, and they will be as bad as ever next summer if drastic action be not taken

An unnamed Democrat told The Tribune's Washington correspondent that it was proposed to oust Senator Smith from the chairmanship of the Democratic State Committee and put Clarence E. Atkinson in his place. This may not be a joke, but it would be easy to name several hundred Democrats who are better known in the party than Mr. Atkinson.

ersey City's new City Hall has a leaky roof. Maybe it was made that way purposely to provide ample escaping room for Aldermanic oratory.

Every Sunday there are complaints from various sections about peaceful hamlets being disturbed by the singing and shouting of beer parties in wagons. The police ought to suppress the hoodlums

Politeness is carried to such an extent by the employes of the West Jersey Railroad that they think nothing of stopping a train until passengers can recover their hats which have been blown off by the wind.

When Miles Ross elects one of his dummies Sheriff of Middlesex County, Democratic majorities in that county will follow as a matter of course, no matter how the people vote.

The death of a boy at one of the Eric Railroad crossings in Jersey City last Wednesday night was a painful reminder to the people that the crossings have not yet been abolished. The city officials have been needlessly dilatory in exercising their power. Before any more lives are sacrificed they would do well to prod the company and keep on prodding it until the danger has been removed.

NEW ARK LEATHER FACTORY BURNED.

A DOG GIVES THE ALARM AND IS AFTERWARD BADLY BURNED.

The large leather factory and tannery of Ziegel, Eisman & Co., in Longworth-st., Newark, was de-stroyed by fire early yesterday morning, with a loss of about $40,000, which is mostly insured. The origin the fire is unknown, but it is believed that the lightning struck a telephone wire during the storm of the previous night and ignited the woodwork, which smouldered until it broke out into flames.

and three Iron dweilings and stables, the latter containing at the time twenty-six horses. The furious barking of a large dog in the factory building at 4 o'clock atracted the attention of a passing baker, who then saw a sheet of flame issue from a window of the factory. An alarm was sounded, and the neighborhood aroused. When the firemen arrived, the flames hood aroused. When the lifemen arrived, the flames had made such headway that the factory could not be saved, and streams were directed upon the buildings that were threatened.

The dog which gave the alarm leaped from a window of one of the frame factory buildings to the roof of an adjoining stable. His back and face had been singed by the flames. A stableman coaxed the animal down to the ground and took care of him.

DRUGGED AND ROBBED.

THE EXPERIENCE OF A NEW-YORK REAL ESTATE AGENT IN HOBOKEN.

Julius H. Franck, a real estate and insurance agent at No. 103 East Third-st., New-York, was found Thursday night by the watchman of Stevens Institute, Hoboken, lying unconscious in the institute grounds. He was taken to Hoboken Police Headquarters, and awoke yesterday morning to find that he had been a victim of "knock-out" drops, and had lost one diamond shirt stud, a gold watch and had lost one diamond shirt stud, a gold watch and chain. St in money, and papers valued at $100. Franck told Recorder McDonough that he last recalled the fact that he was in a saloon somewhere in hoboken and took a drink with a man who said that he was in the real estate business. His mind, he said, was a blank after that until he recovered consciousness in a cell and wondered how he got there. When found Franck's trousers pockets were turned inside out.

A SAILOR SHOOTS HIS TORMENTOR.

PROBABLY FATAL RESULT OF AN ATTEMPT TO STEAL A CAN OF BEER.

Thomas Corrigan was shot in the groin at the Morgan-st. pier in Jersey City last evening by Alexander Boyd, colored, a seaman on the schooner Samuel Rickard.

Boyd was arrested at once. He said that he returning to the hoat with a can of beer when he was stracked by a gang of hoodlums, who attempted to take the can from him. They followed him to the boat and hurled missiles at him, cutting his head. He ran to the cabin, selzed a revolver and returned to the deck. He feared that the men would board the boat. They hurled stones and lea at him, and he discharged the pistol to frighten them.

Corrigan, who was removed to the hospital, says that he went to the pier in quest of work. He denies having assaulted Boyd. The wounded man is twenty-eight years old, and lives at No. 250 Rail-road-ave. His wound is regarded as serious.

SMITH'S STRANGE COURSE.

THE SENIOR SENATOR FROM NEW-JER-SEY POLITICALLY HOMELESS.

HE REMAINS IN EUROPE AS IF UNDECIDED WHICH WING OF THE DEMOCRACY HE WILL JOIN-

HIS CHANCES FOR RE-ELECTION DEPEND ON HIS PRES-

ENT ACTION. Trenton, Sept. 4 (Special) .- It seems that Senator James Smith is not coming back in time for the Popocratic State Convention next week. This is extremely disappointing to the small-fry Demo-eratic politicians who have been tumbling over themselves for Bryan, on the plea that the Bryan ticket is regular. They supposed that the Senator would approve their course, and they were given to understand that such was the case by Colonel Price, chairman of the Essex County Democratic Comnittee, and other close friends of Smith. The truth appears to be that the Senator has given no definite nint of his intentions. Plenty of letters and cable messages have been sent to Carlsbad, but most of them were never answered, and the few replies received were indefinite. As a matter of fact, Senator Smith is going to act in a cautious manner. He is at heart a strong sound-money man, and he took the chairmanship of the State Committee last May as a gold man, His best friends are for a sound-money standard, and his business interests are allied with the continuance of the present financial system. His truest admirers propose presenting the situation to him in its real light immediately upon his return. Yet he wants to be re-elected to the United States Senate two years from next January. The eight State Senators to be chosen in November will have a vote for his successor. Consequently he has a vital interest in the coming legislative fight If he comes out for Bryan, he will lose the soundmoney Democratic vote for State Senator in the eight counties where Senators are to be elected. A prominent gold Democrat expressed this view when he said the other day: "If Senator Smith returns and johns us in fighting free silver, we will turn in and help elect State Senators who will favor Smith's second term. But if Smith joins the repudiationists, we will vote for Senators who will favor Smith's second term, But if Smith joins the repudiationists, we will vote for Republican candidates to the State Senate, or not vote at all for members of the Legislature.

This is undoubtedly the problem that is keeping the Senator guessing. It is likewise keeping him from hurrying home. The Presidency is not really so Important to him as another term in the United States Senate. If New-Jersey is going to whip the Bryan contingent badly, it will pay the Senator to stand by sound money and take chances on securing members of the Legislature next year who are favorable to him. He has everything to lose, from the present outbok by supporting silver, and nothing to gain.

The counties that elect Senators this fall are Monmouth, Union, Gloucester, Somerset, Essex, Camden, Salem and Warren. They are all represented at present by Republicans, except Warren. There is no question about seven of the counties. They will return Republican Senators by increased majorities. Warren may be considered doubtful, though it is becoming less so every day. The Democratic who are coming out so strongly for sound money will not vote for a free-silver candidate for the Legislature. In Warren County, the silver men, led by ex-Congressman Johnson Cornish, control the Democratic organization. They intend to nominate a Bryan advocate for Senator, If they do, they are liable to be defeated, and there will only be two Democratis in the Senate next winter.

HUDSON COUNTY POLITICAL NOTES. GREAT ACTIVITY AMONG THE REPUBLICAN CLUBS -THE HONEST PRIMARY ASSOCIATION TRY-

ING TO PREVENT FRAUD AT DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES.

The Finance Committee of the Hudson County Republican Committee has prepared a circular leter, which is to be sent to every Republican in the county, importuning each to be active during this important campaign. The letter says in part:

"With a full sense of the responsibility resting upon the County Committee, and the necessity for a systematic and energetic campaign to further the cause of protection to American industries and the maintenance of the present money standard, this committee has undertaken to distribute literature bearing upon these matters to all voters, and to provide for public meetings and speakers who shall present to the people the facts and arguments thereon, and to place in the hands of every voter before Election Day an official ballot of the Republigan party, with the reasons advanced in favor of the election of its candidates."

The Fremont Club, of Jersey City, will hoist a McKinley and Hobart flag next Thursday night. Frederick J. Stuhr and Joseph Hoffman are seeking the Republican nomination for Freeholder in the Twelfth Ward.

The West Bergen Republican Club raised a flag on Thursday night in the presence of a large crowd, Addresses were made by Alderman Decker, Munroe Summons, G. Frank Sutherland, Isaac Goldenhorn The factory consisted of a large brick building and George C. Be bline. The delegates from the several neighboring clubs did not appear, as they supposed the flag-raising would be postponed on account of the storm. A big and enthusiastic crowd assembled after the storm, and the club decided to hoist the flag and have the meeting.

The Hudson Republican Club will open new headquarters and have a banner-raising at Oakland and Hoboken aves, next Thursday night.

The Organization Committee of the Honest Primary Association, formed by Democrats to try to prevent the "doctoring" of primary election returns in the interest of the party boss, held a meeting on Thursday night. A committee of five was appointed to visit North Hudson, Kearny and Harrison, and induce loyal Democrats to unite with the association and have intelligent and faithful men to guard the primaries and prevent fraud, The secretary. Thomas Jacob, urged that a committee be appointed to look up the laws governing primaries, and prosecute all dishonest election officers. "We must make sure," he said, "that no dead man's or fletitious name is on the roll at the primary. Nobody is bossing our movement, Everybody is rec, but we want no craoked primaries." The secretary was directed to communicate with the Democratic County Committee and inform them that they must adhere rigidly to the law relating to primary elections was announced for the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Eighth and Ninth wards of Jersey City. ENTHUSIASM AT A BANNER-RAISING

Orange, Sept. 4 (Special).-In marked contrast to the Popocratic fizzle at the banner-raising about ten days ago was the outbreak of enthusiasm this evening at the raising of a McKinley and Hubart banner in East Orange. It was swung across Main-st, in close proximity to the Popocratic emblem. Long before the hour the crowds began to gather, and when at last the banner was swung across the street a mighty cheer went up from thousands of lusty throats.

The banner bears the portraits and names Republican candidates, and the motto, "Sentiments of Democratic and Republican Business Men of of Democratic and Republican Business Men of Brick Church." A band of music played before the meeting, and when the banner was swung across the street there was a burst of fireworks on every side, and such a display of rockets, Roman candles and serial bombs as has seldom been seen in the Oranges. The crowd was an immense one, filling every available spot where the voices of the speakers could be heard, while those at a distance organized overflow meetings.

The demonstration was not by Republicans as such, but by the business men of the vicinity, irrespective of politics, Joseph W. Staver, one of the prominent Democrats of East Orange, was chosen to preside. The speakers were furnished by the East Orange Republican Club. They were Congressman R. Wayne Parker, John Winfield Scott and Frencis J. Swayze, of Newark. The enthusiasm was utense, and the points made by the speaker, were applicated to the eche.

FOUND DEAD NEAR A CEMETERY.

Paterson, Sept. 4 (Special).-John Larue, of No. 117 Paterson-ave, stumbled across the body of a man when he overtook the young woman on the road lying in the brush back of the Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, at Preakness, this afternoon. The man lay face downward with his coat thrown over his head. A revolver with one chamber discharged and a bullet revolver with one channer assuming and a onner wound above the left car lent support to the theory of suicide. The dead man was about twenty-five years old. In his pocket were naturalization papers issued to Giuseppi Varcal, of No. 25 Mulberty-st., New-York. The body was removed to the morgue in

DOLAN IS CHAMPION.

HE WINS THE PRESIDENT'S MEDAL AFTER A CLOSE CONTEST.

THE SEA GIRT MEETING ALMOST ENDED-WIM-BLEDON CUP TO BE SHOT FOR TO-DAY-WINNERS IN OPEN MATCHES TO BE ANNOUNCED THIS AFTERNOON State Camp. Sea Girt, Sept. 4 (Special).-T. J. Dolan, of the 12th Regiment, National Guard of New-York, is the military champion shot of the United To-day he held his own against all comers, and there were thirty-three crack marksmen com-peting. Lieutenant F. C. Wilson, of Georgia, tied his score, but Dolan is still champion, the match having been awarded to him by reason of his having made a larger score than Wilson at 600 yards, the longest range.

The military championship of the United States goes with the President's medal. The match is livided into two stages. The first stage was on the 200 and 300 yard ranges, ten shots each, and was open to all members of the Army, Navy and the National Guard of any State. Only the five prize winners of the first stage were entitled to shoot in the final stage. Three shots tied on the 290-yard range-Huddleston, of Washington, and Austin, of orgia, each scoring 42 on this range.

Dolan only scored 41 points on the 500-yard range Young, Huddleston, Austin and Dolan scored 45, and again Wilson scored 46, retaining his lead. At the close of the match the score stood: Delan, 178; Wilon, 178; Young, 162; Huddleson, 176; Austin, 176. Dolan won the match under the rule that in case of a tie the greatest score made on the longer range should win.

Sob-yard range were: Charles E. Gillette, 70; P. E. Kent, 50; J. Egan, 86; W. E. Ganron, 77; George P. Cooley, 89; J. I., Gibbs, 83; W. W. Bull, 83; J. C. Postell, 84; J. H. Keough, 86; W. W. A DISSIPATED HERMIT FOUND DEAD IN HIS HOUSE AFTER A PROTRACTED DEBAUCH.

Matawan, Sept. 4 (Special).-The body of John Neucle, a hermit who lived in a two-room house in the woods near Browntown, was found this morning. Attention was attracted to the spot by the legions of fles which swarmed about the The body was in a fearfully decomposed condition and the man had evidently been dead a week. The last seen of Neucle was a week ago last Monday, when he called at the house of George Dunham, a mile or so distant, and received $6 which Dunham owed him. It is said that he bought liquor with the money and drank himself to death

Several years ago Neucle's wife and family deserted him. His brother George then came, and the two men lived together like animals, working for a day or two, and then buying liquor with what they had earned, until of necessity they were compelled to go to work again. This sort of life continued until three years ago, when the two men went on a protracted spree, and neighbors found the dead body of the brother stretched upon one end of a table and the remains of a meal on the other. John lived on in the same animal-like man-ner until he, too, died, surrounded by flith on every Oceanic, Sept. 4.-Among the many yachts that took advantage of the stiff breeze this afternoon was one owned by Robert Jarvis, of New-York, and sailed by Harry Libaire, son of a member of the New-York Stock Exchange, who lives in West Forty-eighth-st. Libaire was accompanied by Miss Albertina Lippman, of No. 213 West One-hundredand-thirty-second-st., and the two occupants of the yacht took along their bicycles, expecting to get off at some point on the beach for a quiet spin along the country roads. In a sudden squall the boat capsized. The crowd upon the beach saw the accident. Harry Kuper and Dr. Stephen Roof jumped into the maphtha launch Gracie and put out to the rescue. They found young Libaire and Miss Larnman, nearly exhausted, clinging to the boom of the yacht. The shipwrecked amateur sallors were taken home and cared for by physicians, while other yachtsmen took the overturned boat ashore.

AN ECHO OF THE LAST NEWARK CAMPAIGN

CITY COUNSEL PRICE DECLARES THAT FIREMEN ARE NOT REQUIRED TO MAKE RE-

PAIRS ON ENGINE-HOUSES.

The Fire Commissioners held an executive session yesterday and decided to place a steamer in the en-gine-house at Woodside, with four extra men, on September 15. September 15.
City Counsel Price gave his opinion that firemen could not be required to do carpentry, plumbing and other repairs about the engine-houses. Six new men were appointed as firemen of the fourth grade.

HE JUMPED OVERBOARD.

RESCUED AGAINST HIS WILL AND REVIVED, HE GAVE A FICTITIOUS ADDRESS.

A middle-aged man jumped overboard from the forward deck of the ferryboat Bergen of the Barclay-st. line as the boat was lying in her slip in Hoboken at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. An alarm was given, and three deckhands fished the stranger out of the water. He plainly showed that he did ot want to be saved by insisting on ducking his ead under water while the deckhands were rescuhead under water while the decknings were reaching him. The would-be suicide was unconscious when taken into the ferryhouse, and was immediately removed to St. Mary's Hospital in an ambulance. He did not regain his senses for several hours, when he told the Sisters of Mercy in attendance that he was Joseph Hetchler, forty years old, a single man, who boarded at No. 203 Third-st. Hoboken. No. 203 Third-st., the address given by Hetchler, is a vacant lot.

FATALLY INJURED WHILE DRIVING.

A YOUNG WOMAN RIDING WITH A CHANCE ACQUAINTANCE THROWN OUT AND SERIOUSLY HURT.

Hackensack, Sept. 4-A girl about twenty-two years old was brought to the Hackensack Hospital this evening suffering from injuries from which is thought she cannot recover. She had a bad fracture of the skull at the base of the brain and has been unconscious ever since her admittance. No one knows her name nor the name of the man who was in her company when she met with the accident.

The man who accompanied her was of middle age and well dressed and prosperous looking. According to the story obtained from him, he lived in Paterson, and the girl, he thought, lived in Passale:

As near as could be learned he was driving when he overtook the young woman on the road. She entered the buggy with him and they drove toward this place. When a short distance from here the woman was driving and made an attempt to turn. In doing so she cramped one of the front wheels under the carriage and it turned over. She struck on a rock, causing her injuries. The man was not hurt.

The man seemed greatly worried by the affair, lie declined to give his name and went away, saying he was going to Passale to try to ascertain who the girl was. The doctors say she will die.

FATHER KILLEEN RELIEVED OF HIS PAS-TORATE IN BAYONNE.

THE EISHOP ACCEPTS HIS EXPLANATION OF THE CHARGES MADE BY PARISHIONERS AND COMMENDS HIS EFFICIENT WORK-AGE AND INFIRMITIES THE REASON

OF THE REMOVAL.

Father Thomas M. Killeen, formerly rector of St. Mary's Star of the Sea Roman Catholic Church, in Bayonne, who was relieved of his pastorate by Bishop Wigger after the presentation by parishioners of charges of misconduct, is self-explanatory:

To the Editor of The Tribune.

Sir: To remove any evil impression resulting from calumnious insinuations published in some of the daily papers of Jersey City and New-York, about the Rey. Thomas M. Killeen, of Bayonne, N. J., the following letter of the Right Rey. W. M. Wigger, D. D., Bishop of Newark, N. J., is, by agreement, published, I also send a copy of the Rey. T. M. Killeen's reply. Very truly yours.

Seton Hall College, South Orange, N. J., August 23, 1886.

Rev. and Dear Father Killeen.

The unfortunate disaffection of a number of your parishioners is, to my mind, and to that of my Diocesan Council, sufficient reason for my requiring from you the renunciation of St. Mary's Parish, in Bayonne. The explanations given by you amply suffice to remove the misconceptions which resulted from some of your actions. Your priestly moral character has not been touched by any well-founded sucpicion. Your past very efficient work for the temporal and spiritual welfare of St. Mary's Parish deserves high commendation; yet for some time i have been convinced that your age and infirmities are in the way of further needed improvements. I am confident that you cannot remove the disaffection, which prevents a number of parishioners from benefiting by your ministry. Your age and infirmities are such as, in my judgment, to justify me in not assigning you to the active charge of afforder mission, hence, instead of a mission, a yearly pension of $800 from the diocese will be assigned you for your maintenance during the remainder of your life, payable quarterly or monthly, at your option, You will, of course, retain the usual faculties of priests, above all that of celebrating mass in the diocese, and proper facilities will be granted you for their exercise. With best wishes I remain, yours very sincerely. very sincerely.
W. M. WIGGER, Bishop of Newark.

August 31, 1896.

Right Rev. Bishop.

After mature consideration I have concluded to abide by your decision in reference to my renunciation of the parish of St. Mary's, in Bayonne. Permit me, however, to state that I am confident that the great majority of the parishioners always appreciated and gave open testimony to my goodwill and my constant labors for their welfare. Through God's blessing I do not hestiate to say that I have always sought to live up to the high standard required by the priestly life, and it is my purpose ever to be faithful to this high calling. In compilance with your wish, I renounce any nettive charge of a mission, but, wherever I may be, I shall always recognize my duty as a priest toward you as my Bishop, and I shall offer earnest prayers to the Lord to guide you in the care of the diocese. I remain your obedient child in Crist, T. M. KILLEEN.

PLAINFIELD'S BICYCLE CARNIVAL.

AN EXCEPTIONALLY FINE PROGRAMME PREPARED FOR THE AFFAIR.

Plainfield, Sept. 4 (Special). The Daylight Bicyde Carnival, which is to be held here to-morrow, will be the most elaborate affair of its kind ever held in New-Jersey, it is believed. Only one thing can mar its complete success, and that is rain, but the day promises to be one long remembered by wheelmen of the Metropolitan district.

The carnival is not merely a wild scheme of a few enthusiasts, but is supported by the leading men of this city and North Plainfield. The ger eral committee in charge of the carnival, which is composed of a number of the representative wheel men and business men of the city, is better organized than any committee ever having charge of a local celebration here. In connection with parade there will also be a coasting contest in the morning. To make a success of the parade it was found expedient to offer prizes of substantial value, and after a long discussion a list of twenty-one prizes was made up, with an aggregate value of .000.12

The prizes selected will be awarded as follows: For the club having the largest number in line for the best uniformed club, for the best appearing military wheeling organization, for the most hand somely decorated gentleman's wheel, for the most handsemely decorated lady's wheel, for the hest burlesque display, for the best decorated juvenile wheel, for the best decorated tandem and for the best decorated business float. Of course, the parade is by no means for clubs of course, the parade is by no means for clubs only. The vast army of unattached wheelmen will receive the same care and courtesy as the members of regular organizations. The carnival programme will begin in the morning, with a coasting contest on Watchung-ave, hill. The hill is steep, straight and the roadway is in good condition. straight and the roadway is in good condition Like the parade, the coasting contest will be open to all wheelmen. Single wheels only will be allowed in the contest, however. Four valuable prizes will be offered to the cyclists that do

While Plainfield will have a whole army of unattached wheelmen in line, she will not be unrepre-sented among the clubs. The officers of the Crescent Wheelmen are hustling to get a big turnout, and hope, if possible, to have the club secure a prize. The T. M. C. The boat was too small to accommodate the four, and they found that they would probably be swamped. About this time a steam launch was sighted, and they were rescued and taken ashore.

The men all returned home to-day, it was at first reported that all had been drowned. The reporter created considerable excitement at Keyport until they returned. The sloop sank, turned over, and was found floating bottom-side up by the tug John Bowker, and was towed into New-York Harbor.

OBITUARY.

DR. FREDERICK W. BRIEGLEIB.

Dr. Frederick William Briegleib, a retired physician, died at his home, No. 261 Central-ave., City, on Thursday. He was born in Hesse-Darmstadt in 1829, and was educated in the universities of Kiesen, Vienna and Wurtzburg. He came to this country in 1850, and practised in New-York and later in Washington, D. C. In 1850 he removed to Jersey City and built up a large practice. He retired eleven years ago, and shortly after the death of his only son, Arminius, a well-known lawyer. A wildow and an unmarried daughter survive him.

MISS JENNIE HAMMILL.

Miss Jennie Hammill, a teacher in Public School No. 17, Jersey City, died on Wednesday at her home,

No. 141 Mercer-st. Miss Hammill contracted a cold a year ago, and consumption developed, forcing her to retire from teaching last October. Miss Hammill was twenty four years old. She was graduated from the High School in 1888, spent a year in the training school, and was appointed a teacher in 1891. She was successful in a contest in a local paper which offered to defray the expenses of the teacher receiving the greatest number of votes for a tour through Europe. Miss Hammill received 19,924 votes. She made the trip in the summer of 1891. The funeral will take place this morning at St. Bridget's Roman Catholic Church.

TOO MUCH SIMILARITY.

A LIVELY DISCUSSION OVER THE NAMES OF THREE JERSEY CITY SOCIETIES.

Three musical societies in the Greenville section of Jersey City are involved in a spirited controversy as to which should change its title. They are so much alike that considerable confusion has resulted from communications going to the wrong orgunization. The rival societies are the Greenville Choral Union, the Lutheran Choral Union and the Green-ville Choral Society. The Lutheran Union insists that the others should change their names and drap the "Choral," as it has been in existence five years, and, being the senior organization, is entitled to retain its title. A conference has been suggested.

A JERSEY CITY OFFICIAL RETREATS RATHER THAN COMBAT AN IRATE WOMAN.

Telegraph Superintendent Foley, of Jersey City, had a lively experience on Thursday while endeavoring to place a police signal box in Centralave. He attempted to plant a pole in front of the butcher shop of W. D. Gregory, who threatened to cut the pole down. Foley, being a peaccable man, withdrew and began excavating for the pole in front of the dwelling-house of Eugene Murphy, who interfered. Foley again moved and started to dig in front of a building where there is a Chinese laundry. The Celestials objected and summoned Mrs. Kattenstroth, the owner, who pushed the workmen aside, and standing over the hole they had begun, defied them to remove her.

Of course, all that Foley needed to have done to stop interference would have been to call the police, but he did not. He espled an old telegraph pole on the block and abandoning the task of putting up the new, attached the signal box to the old pole, while the crowd cheered.

COLORED METHODISTS MEET.

CENTENNIAL OF THE A. M. E. ZION CHURCH CELEBRATED IN OCEAN GROVE.

Ocean Grove, Sept. 4 (Special).- The centennial of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church was elebrated in the Auditorium to-day, and 1,000 colored Methodists from all parts of the country took part in the exercises. Bishop Alexander Walters presided at the morning session. Bishop J. W. Hood made the opening address. Miss Rosina Wickson then read an original poem, "Zion's Centennial.

The chief address at the morning session was made by J. C. Dancy, of Salisbury, N. C. His subject was "The A. M. E. Zlon Church as an Educator of the Afro-American Race." It was a masterly review of the advancement of the colored people and the remarkable growth of the church during the hundred years of its existence. Dr. Dancy eulogized Wendeli Phillips and William Lloyd Gar-rison, saying they were always the friends of the colored race and the best exponents of their rights. "Zion's Church," Dr. Dancy said, "has been an educating influence; it has taught religion and opposed infidelity; it has been a patriotic Church, and at no time has its arm been raised against the American iline has its arm been raised against the American Nation."

Then followed addresses by the Rev. Dr. J. E. Mason, of Roehester, on "The A. M. E. Zion Church and the Christian Endeavor Work"; the Rev. Dr. William Howard Day, of Harrisburg, on "The A. M. E. Zion Church as a Pioneer Factor in Negro Development," and Bishop G. W. Clinton, of St. Louis, m. The Literature of the A. M. E. Zion Church."

Bishop J. W. Hood presided at the afternoon session, when addresses were made by the Rev. J. A. D. Blobe, of Camilen, the Rev. William D. Bowen, of Yonkers, Bishop C. C. Pettey, of Newberne, N. C. and Bishop J. B. Small, of York, Penn. Dr. Eowen spoke on "The Missionary Work of the A. M. E. Zion Church." Bishop Pettey spoke concerning "The Duty of the Nation to the Negro," and Bishop Small's theme was "The Relation of the A. M. E. Zion Church to the Temperance Question."

Walder, silk manufacturer, and the members of his family providentially escaped death, and several of their guests were severely bruised. Mr. and Mts. Walder had been conducting a party to view the scenery about the big reservoirs. Returning, they led the way, seated in their buggy, while the others were close behind in the family carriage.

They were near the Susquehanna station when the storm came up. It increased to a gale before they had gone 200 feet, and the buggy cover was ripped off and the wagon itself overturned. At the same instant a large tree on the roadside was blown down, the trunk striking one of the team of horses following and crushing its life out almost instantly. Mr. and Mrs. Walder escaped with slight injuries. The carriage was considerably damaged, and its occupants were shaken up and frightened. The party was conveyed to the Walder farm, about a mile away, and physicians were summoned. Mr. Walder sent word to friends to-day that no one was seriously injured.

STRANDED WITHIN SIGHT OF HOME. A GLEN ISLAND EXCURSION STEAMER CAUGHT IN THE STORM.

New-Brunswick, Sept. 4 (Special).-The steamer Sam Sloan on Thursday ran an excursion from New-Brunswick to Gien Island. There were about 450 passengers from New-Brunswick, and with the other landings this num to 700. The steamer left Glen Island at 3:30 o'clo on the return trip. Storm clouds began to appear after she had passed New-York and was running up the inside course between Staten Island and New-Jersey. At 6:30 o clock the steamer reached Cartaret, near Woodbridge, in Middlesex County, and tied to the pier while the rain fell in torrents. The passengers crowded into the cabins and sweltered during the enforced delay. At 7:30 o'clock the Sloan again started toward this city. She did not have a Rarian River pilot, and on account of the strange waters and the intense darkness was compelled to proceed with wearisome slowness, The passengers for Tottonville, South Amboy and Sayreville were all safely landed, the steamer reaching the latter dock at 10 o'clock. Up the winding river the boat slowly crept, with conditions of wind and tide against her, not to mention the darkness All went well until within sight of home and not over 300 yards from the landing. Here the steamer was stranded on a sandbar and could not be moved. This was 11 o'clock at night. To add to the discomfort of the occasion, there were no re-freshments on board and not even water to drink, and half the people were ravenously hungry and all of them thirsty. The steam yacht Enterprise ran out to the steamer, her captain offering to take anybody ashore for a quarter. Everybody was willing to pay the money, but the captain of the Sloan absolutely refused to let anybody leave until he landed at the pier. The captain's reason was that he was responsible for the safety of was that he was responsible for the sales, or those on board and would run no risks. On shore friends of the belated passengers were gathered and made unkind remarks about the capialn. It was of no avail. The agony was continued until 2:30 o'clock this morning, when the boat floated off the bar and the passengers were soon safely landed, and conveyed to their homes by a string of waiting trolley-cars.

Blum represented that he was an agent of the Hungarian Society in New-York, and he collected sums of money ranging from E to S from the foreigners. On reaching Hoboken he deserted the men, and when they discovered that they had been swindled a small riot occurred.

they had been swindled a small riot occurred. Detective Nelson and Policeman Rabold were summoned, and found Blum. They took him to Police Headquarters, where several receipts for his "commissions" were found on his person and confiscated. He was compelled to refund the money.

The police said that none of the man's alleged victims could pass an examination required of applicants for places on steamships. They further averred that somebody has for a long time been investiging isporant foreigners to Hoboken in the manner adopted by Blum, and then had commended the second of the second
